Bond Issue for Street Improvement Defeated in the Board of Aldermen.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 14.—Dr.
Hunter Ashby Bond, a distinguished young physician of New York, ended his life Sunday afternoon at the home of his mother in this city by shooting himself in the head with a pistol. The ball entered the temple, penetrating the brain and death was instantaneous. Dr. Bond was in a most distressing condition of health, and had been alone for only a very few minutes when the shot was

No one knew that there was a pistal in the room, and it is not known how he obtained the one used.

Dr. Bond had been suffering for many months from nervous prostration, and came to the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Bond, in this city, about three months ago, hoping that the rest and change would eneith him, but he continued to grow weaker, and for a month or more had been unable to leave the house. For the past three weeks he had hardly slept at all, and his suffering day and night was intense.

Dr. Hunter A. Bond was born in this city july 22, 1866, the son of Major and Mrs. Thomas H. Bond. He studied at McCabe's University School, going from there to the University of Virginia, where he took a special medical course for two years. From the University he went to Bellevue College, New York, where he was graduated with honors. After his graduation he took up work at the Amity-ville Sanitapium on Long Island, and from there he went to the Manhattan State Hospital, in New York, about eight years ago, and successive promotions came to him until at the time of his Sinte Hospital, in New York, about eight years ago, and successive promotions came to him until at the time of his death, he was head assistant at this large institution, second only to Dr. Bent, the distinguismed superintendent.

He was a young man of quiet and studious habits, devoted to his home, showing a beautful affection for his mother and sisters. He was a favorite with the medical fraternity in the city in which his had made his home, and always popular with the people of Petersburg, who knew him from his carliest boyhood.

ALAN PRESSLEY WILSON

The nervous "break-down"

This condition is usually caused by overwork or mental strain and neglect.

When one overworks, the nerves are overworked. Then you "live on your nerves."

You can "live on your nerves" just so long—then the nerves protest in some form—"break down," "worn out," nervous prostration—all meaning just one thing.

Your nerves need attention. You must feed some new power to your nerves.

That is just what Paine's Celery Compound does. It feeds new power to the nerves and builds them back to healthy strength.

That is just why for the past 17 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the most universally used tonic in the world. That is just exactly why brain workers keep themselves keen, healthy and vigorous by using Paine's Celery Compound.

Alan Pressley Wilson, a journalist of Bat-timore, tells his experience in an interesting way—his experience is that of thousands upon thousands every year.

way—his experience is that or thousands upon thousands every year.

Wells & Richardson Co., Burlington, Vt. Gentlemen:—"Paine's Celery Compound has been the means of placing me on my feet after, a continuous struggle against nervous prostration. When my wife died a short time ago I threw myself into my work with such energy as to cause a nervous breakdown, and my friends became very solicitous of my health. I tried various remedies and diets but seemed to grow worse. At times I became so despondent that I did not care to live if living meant such nervous debility. One day when I was exhausted by the nervous strain of my work I chanced to see in The Baltimore American the testimony of one who had been troubled with nerve depiction, but who, through the use of the famous Compound, was made well. I resolved to try it and I am delighted with the results. I can now do the work on my paper that I never thought possible. Journalistic work requires strong nerves and I have no fear that mine will fail me now."—Alan Pressley Wilson, 1635 Edmonson Ave.

Thousands of grateful patients tell of the untailing effect of Paine's Celery Compound as a nerve vitalizer and tonic. Physicians, the world over; use and prescribe it and testify to wonderful Miss Taylor was in the room alone and was in the act extinguishing the blazo, when an explosion occurred. When she reached the door of the parior, she fell to the floor. After considerable effort, the blaze from her clothing was extinguished. The injuries received by Miss Taylor, while serious and very painful, will not result fatally.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ETNA MILLS, VA., Nov. 14.—P. Lightfoot Wormley, Jr., and wife, of Washington, D. C., arrived at "Manskin Lodge" for a hunt, and will spend ten days, his vacation. Mr. Wormley is employed by the government in the Engineer Corps Department.

Manskeln Lodge is one of the oldest estates in America, having been granted to the Wormley family by the Crown of England. The original tract was 13,000 acres. The home now has 999 neres of choice land. This plantation is well tilled under the superintendency of Miss Kathrine Ann Rouzle, and is managed by Mr.
Newton Marshall, who has had much experience in farming, laving lived on a farm in the West. This farm is well enclosed with cedar posts and woven wire.
It is right on the Pamunitey River. It is farmed on the five field system. It is very level and easy to cultivate, Miss Rouzle is a cultivated lady of the old Virginia type, well informed on all subjects of agriculture, and very successful.

This is a resort for the Wormley family,
where they can come and go at any time.

A more desirable home cannot be found in America.

This was the home of the lamented
Dr. Carter Wormley. This plantation pays handsomely.

Mr. Lewis Walker, of Pittsburg, Pa., has bought "Gueen Field," a farm of 188 acres, and has removed there with his family of eight children. The oldest is just seventeen, eleventh, Miss Mary Feadora, a pretty brunette, who was greatly please to celebrate in Virginia.

Queen Field is one of the richest farms on the Pamunkey River, having been well maried with green sand just before the Ciwil War. The farm has an elegant brick dwelling, four rooms on a floor, basement and two stories above; a splendid barn. Mr. Walker will add other inrovements and says he is delighted with the Virginia people, and that his farm is pald for and he intends to stay here the rest of his life.

Circuit Judge Jeter C. Pritchard and resident Judge Purnell, of the Faderal Court, sitting to-day in the case of R. L. Forrest vs. the Southern Saw Mill Company, of Robeson county, made an order declining to remove W. J. Edwards, receiver, naming Eugene Martin, of Wilmington, special master to investigate the affairs of the company. The plant is ordered to be sold January 18th.

BANK INSOLVENT.

It appearing to the North Carolina Corporation Commission from the report of State Bank Examiner J. C. Ellington that the Morchants' and Farmers' Bank of Milton, N. They are confident the trip will result in important legislation by Congress for the improvement of the harbor facilities at Beaufort by the next Congress siation by Congress for the improvement of the harbor facilities at Beaufort by the next Congress.

An order was issued this merning by Judges Pritchard and Purnell in the Federal Court for the sale of the plant of the Southern Saw Mill and Lumber Company, January 18th, commissioners to perfect the sale to be appointed later. There was elaborate argument to-day on the petition of R. L. Forrest for the removal of W. J. Edwards as receiver, on the charge of gross mismanagement. It is a sharp legal fight, and the court has taken the case under advisement. The plant is valued at $75.000, and the liabilities of the company are about $300,000.

Judge Long vesterday discharged the jury in the case of W. T. Hughes and Company, of Louisburg, vs. Cheutham and Mitchell, warehousemen of this city, they beng unable to agree after being out three days and nights. He told them there was me earthly reason why they should not reach a verdict in the case, and he would hold them together for a week but for the fact that court must be adjourned for the term. The case involved about $2,000 margin in a deal for scrap tobacco, which the warehousemer failed to deliver after giving an option.

The Western North Carollna Conference that has been in session since Thursday will adjourn to-morrow, as Bishop Duncan has an engagement to preside over the Bouth Georgia Conference, and he wishes to have a few days' rest before taking up the work there.

An unusual feature presented at this session is the fact that the conference has overpald both for the foreign and domestic missions work—something that has never been done before in North Carolina. In fact, it is given out that the condition of the reports filed show clearly that the Methodists of this section of the State are financially in better condition than for years.

AYLETTS, VA.. Nov. 14.—One of the most enjoyable events of the past week, was when Mr. Temple W. Isillard, of "Bellemount," entertained a party of gentlemen at dinner at his home. They had been invited to take a hunt, and this part of it, too, was very successful, Dr. J. E. Mosely, of Richmond, is at the "Mesdows," the home of Judge O. O. Gwathmey, on the Mattaponi, to take a hunt.

"Meadows," the nome of Jane 18 of Gwathmey, on the Mattaponi, to take a hunt.

A petition has been sent to Washington asking the government to deepen the Mattapore River from Walkerton to Ayletts, a distance of ten miles, as it was before the war. Now large vessels that carry the immense shipments of cordwood, lumber, railroad ties and grain cannot get beyond Walkerton, and all of the heavy stuff is taken down in lighters. The steamboat which arrives here twice a week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, at times cannot begin to take the freight offered, such as grain, potatoes, and all kinds of country produce. Recently a large new warshouse has been built, and where stuff can be stored till it can be shipped.

Sawmill men are away behind in getting off orders. Lighters are in demand, although there are a number plying between here and Walkerton.

Mr. E. S. Pollard has built a very dittactive dwelling at "Zoor," his home, which overlooks this town. Mr. Ray Taylor, an energotic faymer, the owner of "Brighton," is putting a woven whre fence around his farm, a distance of three miles.
